

2022-2023 Cost of Attendance for JDInteractive Students

The College of Law provides an estimate of the costs that are reasonable for a student to attend Syracuse University College of Law and pursue the J.D. degree program. The chart below represents an example of tuition and fees for a law student engaged in part-time study in the JDInteractive program for the 2022-2023 academic year.

Figures within the budget may vary from student to student. These variations are acceptable as long as they do not exceed the estimated maximum total for the cost of attendance. For figures 3 - 8, please take into account all of your actual and expected expenses for the first two semesters which extend August 2022 through April 2023.

College of Law Estimated Expenses		Your Actual Expenses

5.	Meals	$4,220 (nine-month)	$
6.	Transportation	$1,630	$
7.	Personal Allowance	$2,244	$
8.	Average Federal Loan Origination Fees	$1,071	$
Estimated Maximum Total Cost of Attendance		$68,061	$

Tuition for students enrolled in the JDInteractive program is charged on a per-credit-hour basis. The current program rate of tuition for the 2022-2023 academic year is $2,057 per credit.

Residencies are a requirement of the JDInteractive program; the residency fee covers course materials and supplies, costs associated with speakers, transportation to events planned during the residency, catering and food charges, space rental, and other miscellaneous expenses.

Textbook, travel, and housing costs are each student's responsibility. Additional expenses must be approved by the College of Law Financial Aid Office with proper documentation. Allowable types of expenses may include the one-time cost of purchasing a computer or childcare expenses.

Expenses NOT allowed in the educational budget include payment of consumer debt (such as credit card payments), the purchase or upkeep of your automobile, costs associated with finding employment (interview expenses, clothing), and expenses incurred during periods of non-enrollment (i.e. between terms/semesters).
