

2022- 2023 Estimated Cost of Attendance - LL.M. Program

The College of Law requires LL.M. students to complete a minimum of 24 Law credits in order to obtain the degree. Students must enroll in a minimum of 9 credits per semester. The total cost-of-attendance depends on the length of a student’s course of study.

Two-Semester LL.M. Program

Two-Semester “Traditional” Track (12+ credits per semester)
1.	Tuition	Anticipated flat rate of $28,645 per semester charged to students enrolled in 12 or more credits.	$57,290
2.	Health and Wellness Fee	$822	$822
3.	Law Student Resource Fee	$1,280	$1,280
4.	Activity Fee	$90	$90
5.	Health Insurance*	$2,347
6.	Books and Supplies	$2,035
7.	Housing	$11,136
8.	Meals	$4,220
9.	Transportation	$1,630
10.	Personal Allowance	$2,244
		Estimated Total Cost of Attendance Two-Semester LL.M. Program	$83,094

Breakdown of Expenses

- Your tuition (line 1) may be reduced by any merit scholarship you receive which is referenced in your admission letter.
- Your fees (lines 2, 3, and 4) are fixed by the University and College of Law and cannot be reduced.
- Your mandatory health insurance (line 5) will be charged to your Student Account by the University Bursar. This mandatory fee may be waived if a student has adequate health insurance coverage. Learn more online at <https://ese.syr.edu/bewell/insurance/>
- Your personal expenses (lines 6, 7, 8, 9, and 10) reflect anticipated costs for required textbooks, housing, meals, and other personal expenses and may vary from student to student.

Other Policies and Information

All costs above are expected to be confirmed each May per University policy and may differ slightly from year to year. Tuition, fees, and policies are posted and updated annually on the Tuition and Fees Bulletin: <https://bfas.syr.edu/bursar/tuition-fees-and-related-policies-bulletin/>

Payment for tuition and fees is due during the first half of each semester you are enrolled. Failure to pay may result in late fees and/or a hold on your account preventing your from registering for courses. Expenses not allowed in the educational budget include costs of moving, payment of consumer debt, the purchase or upkeep of an automobile, costs associated with finding employment, and expenses incurred during periods of non-enrollment. Students bringing dependents should anticipate an additional cost of $9,500 per spouse and $4,500 per child.

2022 - 2023 Estimated Cost of Attendance - LL.M. Program

The College of Law requires LL.M. students to complete a minimum of 24 Law credits in order to obtain the degree. Students must enroll in a minimum of 9 credits per semester. The total cost-of-attendance depends on the length of a student's course of study

Three-Semester LL.M. Program

Three-Semester "Standard" Track
		Rate of $2,057 per credit charged to students enrolled in 11 or fewer credits per semester.
1.	Tuition	24 Credits x $2,057=	$49,368
2.	Health and Wellness Fee	$822	$822
3	Law Student Resource Fee	$1,280	$1,280
4.	Activity Fee	$90	$90
5.	Health Insurance*	$2,347
6.	Books and Supplies	$2,035
7.	Housing	$11,136
8.	Meals	$4,220
9.	Transportation	$1,630
10.	Personal Allowance	$2,244
Estimated Total Cost of Attendance Three-Semester LL.M. Program			$88,119

Breakdown of Expenses

- Your tuition (line 1) may be reduced by any merit scholarship you receive which is referenced in your admission letter.
- Your fees (lines 2, 3, and 4) are fixed by the University and College of Law and cannot be reduced.
- Your mandatory health insurance (line 5) will be charged to your Student Account by the University Bursar. This mandatory fee may be waived if a student has adequate health insurance coverage. Learn more online at <https://ese.syr.edu/bewell/insurance/>
- Your personal expenses (lines 6, 7, 8, 9, and 10) reflect anticipated costs for required textbooks, housing, meals, and other personal expenses and may vary from student to student. Note the increase in cost for the 3-semester accounts for increased living expenses.

Other Policies and Information

All costs above are expected to be confirmed each May per University policy and may differ slightly from year to year. Tuition, fees, and policies are posted and updated annually on the Tuition and Fees Bulletin: <https://bfas.syr.edu/bursar/tuition-fees-and-related-policies-bulletin/>

Payment for tuition and fees is due during the first half of each semester you are enrolled. Failure to pay may result in late fees and/or a hold on your account preventing your from registering for courses. Expenses not allowed in the educational budget include costs of moving, payment of consumer debt, the purchase or upkeep of an automobile, costs associated with finding employment, and expenses incurred during periods of non-enrollment. Students bringing dependents should anticipate an additional cost of $9,500 per spouse and $4,500 per child.

If you have questions about calculating your budget, managing costs during enrollment at the College of Law, or other questions related to financial aid, please contact our office at lawfinaid@syr.edu