I know moving across the country, across the continent, or across the world can be overwhelming so I hope this guide can serve as a resource for international students matriculating to the College of Law. While you will have access to incredible resources during your time at SUCOL, please never hesitate to contact me via LinkedIn or email. Enjoy your time at the College of Law, and believe me—it goes by so quickly.

- > Sitting for the Bar Exam
To be eligible to sit for the Bar exam in the U.S., most states require candidates to have a J.D. (Juris Doctor) degree. Several states, including New York, allow graduates of an LL.M. program to sit for the bar exam provided they fulfill additional criteria, both in their previous degree and the LL.M. program, to satisfy eligibility. Additionally, a few states permit foreign trained lawyers to sit for the bar exam provided that their credentials, once assessed, satisfy the state bar requirements.

For additional information, visit the Board of Law Examiners website for the state in which you plan to sit for the Bar exam. You may also contact the College of Law Bar Support team at barsupport@syr.edu
